

MYSTIC OF THE WILDERNESS MARGARET R. BUNSON

Foreword by Msgr. Paul A. Lenz

66666666

Meet Kateri Tekakwitha — a remarkable figure of faith

The life of Kateri Tekakwitha takes you on an interesting as well as inspiring journey through the early years of America. Her conversion and mysticism — in the wilderness — is a pure example of divine grace.

Kateri Tekakwitha, Mystic of the Wilderness is unique. There are very few histories of Kateri and the Mohawks: most are simple biographies detailing only Kateri's life. This exciting work takes you inside Kateri's tribe and describes the customs and culture that shaped her life.

As you travel with Kateri, you will begin to understand that she dwelt in yet another landscape, in the world of true mystics. She was a contemplative, a soul enraptured by God even in the wilds of a hostile land.

Anyone interested in the life of this remarkable human being will cherish this inspirational and enlightening work.

Margaret R. Bunson is a professional writer and artist. Among her works are Our Sunday Visitor's Father Damien and Signposts for Pilgrims; she is also the illustrator of Our Sunday Visitor's Saints You Should Know Series. While a resident of Hawaii, she served as the diocesan liaison to the 62 tribes of Native Americans residing there. She also founded the island celebration of Kateri Day.

